My dear Santosh,

Thank you very much for sending me the inaugural issue of your bilingual magazine ALMA TODAY, which has an article on me. I feel highly honoured and privileged.

No work of science has so comprehensively impacted on the course of human development as "Information Technology. It has been the greatest change agent of this century with a promise to play an even more dramatic role in the coming years. It has changed every aspect of life – communications, trade, manufacture, services, culture, entertainment, education etc. the list is endless.

With the aim of the monthly magazine ALMA TODAY being to promote computer education and literacy, I am certain the publication will gain popularity and prove to be a huge success.

You have my prayers and best wishes,

Sincerely,

Amitabh Bachchan
